Preface.

To collect and collate the information contained in this book has been a labor of love on the part of the compiler, who began thirteen years ago, and has devoted much time to the work. Every effort has been put forth to secure all the information possible, especially on the line descended from Thomas. The results have not been entirely satisfactory, owing to the imperfect condition of records, which makes necessary the omission of many families.

The spelling observed is that of the family. The descendants of Thomas mostly use "Steevens" to the present day. Those of William drop the extra letter "e." No attempt has been made to give the English history, as the same is uncertain. The comments made in the Ancestor's history explain the reasons more in detail.

No effort has been made toward elaborate execution. The book is published for information rather than show. The compiler has received from Mr. Edward C. Nichols, town clerk of Killingworth, much valuable assistance in verifying records, and other ways which have contributed largely to greater accuracy in the records given herein. In the earlier part of the work Mr. C. Goodrich Walton also rendered valuable assistance.

Elmira, N. Y., May 1, 1906.

Explanatory.

Those who read this book will be aided in their examination by noting the following facts :

Each generation constitutes a division ; succeeding generations are carried forward in family and numerical order.

A light-faced figure preceding a name indicates that there is no further record.

A black-faced figure indicates a subsequent history, which will be found in the next generation under the same number.

Whenever the name of the State is omitted, it may be understood that the town referred to is in Connecticut.

The names of husband and wife are put in black-faced type so that they may be quickly and easily recognized.

The Index is divided into two parts. Part I contains the Christian names of those whose surname is Steevens. Part II contains all other names mentioned in the book.

The Ancestor.

Who the "John Stephens" was, who is known to be the ancestor of the Steevens family of Guilford, or from whence he came, is at present in doubt. It is stated in the "Stevens Genealogy," published in 1904, edited by Rev. C. Ellis Stevens, LL. D., of New York, that John was the second son of Sir Edward Stephens, of Little Sodbury, county Gloucester, and a most creditable English line, bristling with coats of arms, extends back to Airard FitzStephen, a nobleman of Normandy. The story is very attractive, and the line, one of which any American might well be proud, but one link in the chain is broken, and the previous history availeth not.

The book referred to says:

Sir Edward Stephens, of the manor of Little Sodbury, Co. Gloucester, had issue,

- (1). Sir Thomas,
- (2). John, of Guilford, Conn., etc.

In a foot note the editor says: "The identity of John Stephens, and the fact that his father was Sir Edward Stephens, of Sodbury, are specifically recorded in the family documents, and in historical works and official papers on both sides of the Atlantic, and confirmed by contemporaneous circumstances, and by research, etc."

Unfortunately the editor's research did not extend quite far enough, for according to Foster's "Alumni Oxoniensis," page 1418, "John Stephens, son of Edward, of Little Sodbury, Co. Gloucester, arm., matriculated at Lincoln College, Nov. 24, 1637, aged 15." An inscription taken from St. Thomas' Church at Oxford tells the remainder of the story.

"Johannes Stephens filius secundo genitus Edwardi Stephens de Sodbury parva in comitatu Glocestiensi, Armigeri, Adolescens magni ingenii et praeter solitum juvenilis aetatis studium pietate et bonarum literarum scientia ornatus; obiit April 8, anno aetatis vicesimo-secundo, Anno Dom. 1643."

See LeNeve's Monumenta Anglicana, Vol. I, page 203.

Translation.

John Stevens, second son born to Edward Stephens of Little Sodbury in County Gloucester, Armiger, a youth of great natural ability, and beyond the ordinary inclinations of young manhood distinguished for piety and literary attainments, died April 8, in the twenty-second year of his age, in the year of our Lord 1643.

These records prove that John, the second son of Edward, was born in the year 1622. The Harleian Society Publications, Vol. XXI, page 151, give Thomas, eldest son of Edward, as being four years old in 1623. Foster's Alumni Oxoniensis, Vol. IV, page 1420, gives "Stephens, Thomas, son Edward, of Little Sodbury, Co. Gloucester, arm., Lincoln College, matriculated Jan. 22, 1635-6, aged 16. Student Middle Temple, 1636." This corroborates the first record and proves that Thomas, the eldest son of Edward, was born in 1618. It further establishes the fact that John's birth in 1622, as noted in previous proofs, is entirely reasonable. Had this John lived he could not have been "the ancestor," as he was only 17 years old when the real ancestor emigrated, as the father of four children.

Such evidence as this cannot be overthrown, and removes any possibility of claiming descent from this honored line.

The N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register, Vol. 47, p. 115, refers to a will of Dame Anne Moulson, of St. Christopher, London, widow of Sir Thomas Moulson, knight and alderman of London. Date Aug. 11, 1657. Proved Nov. 2, 1661. In this document the testator wills "to Mr. John Stevens and his wife, another of my niece Knightly's daughters; Mr. Thomas Stevens, eldest son of Mr. John Stevens, by Anne, his late wife, daughter of my husband's brother, etc."

This might possibly refer to the "ancestor John." There is no authentic information as to the wife's name, which may have been Anne, instead of Mary. Steiner's history says John came from Kent. It would seem likely that he did come from that section, and that he was not an armiger, but a well-to-do farmer. This opinion is justified by the following extract from Barber's Historical Collections, pages 209, 217: "Among the first 46 original planters who settled in Guilford were John Stephens and Thomas Stephens." "The first planters who came to this town (Guilford) were of two ranks, viz.: such who in England are called gentlemen and commonality. None were poor and few or no servants. The gentlemen were all men of wealth and bear the appellation of "Mr."; the others "goodman" or "neighbor." The first planters were almost all husbandmen by profession, no tradesmen or blacksmiths among them. * * They were country people and chose Guilford as a place like their old home in England, Kent."

It is more than likely that none were entitled to bear arms, and the descendants of "John Stevens" may well console themselves with the reasonable assurance that their ancestor was "Mr." John Stevens, gentleman.

The first known record of John Stevens appears in Edward E. Atwater's "History of the Colony of New Haven," page 626, which says, the first ship, "The St. John," sailed from England May 20, 1639, and arrived in New Haven about July 10-15, 1639. The second ship came also in July, 1639, and on it were John Sheather and John Stephens, among 24 persons, most of whom settled in Guilford. John Stephens appears in the Guilford records as having settled there before or about 1645, at which time he acted as a Judge in the town. It would appear likely, however, that he had been there some years, to have been appointed to so important an office. In 1650 he gives his name and the names of his sons Thomas and William in the first list of settlers in Guilford with the spelling "Stephens." All later records were "Steevens" or "Stevens," the former being more common.

He was a member of the Church of England. He was married in England and his wife must have died before he emigrated, as she is not mentioned in any records of Guilford. Steiner's "History of Guilford and Madison" says: "John Stephens with sons Thomas and William came from Kent and were in Guilford at first division of lands."

His "Home lot" of one and one-half acres was on the east side of Fair street, next north of William Dudley. He also owned thirty-six and one-quarter acres of "upland," beside the alder swamp.

He must have united with the church at Guilford between 1650 and 1656, as he is recorded as a freeman in 1656. He executed a deed of gift to his son Thomas, of his East Creek land, near the alder swamp, of date Mar. 11, 1670. He made his will Aug. 27, during his last illness, and three days before his death, which occurred Sept. 1, 1670. The will was signed with his mark, he doubtless being too feeble to write his name in full, as he had often done in days of health. The full text of the will appears in the Appendix, copied from the original probate records by the compiler.

The order of birth of the ancestor's children has been made a subject of controversy by Dr. C. Ellis Stevens, in his history previously referred to. There is no question as to his error in this particular, as well as in the English descent. All published records seem to agree. Smyth's "History of Guilford," page 15, says, "John Stephens, with sons Thomas and William, appear to have been here, etc." Steiner, in his history, speaks of the sons as "Thomas and William." In connection with the Rossiters, Steiner says Thomas seems to have been the chief man in the business, and it was Thomas who handed the "offensive paper" to Governor Leete. Thomas' name appears first on the freemen's list, several years before William's. In American Ancestry, Vol. IV, page 18, this is said: "William died at Killingworth, 1710-12, of great age, selectman, youngest son of John, who came from England about 1640 to Guilford; had four children, John, in England, Thomas, William, Mary."

The most positive proof of all, however, is in John's will, where the children are named in order, Thomas being first. Talcott's manuscript gives the order as John, Thomas, William and Mary. Numerous other authorities might be cited in proof of Thomas' seniority, but as it is conceded by expert genealogists that Thomas was unquestionably the elder son, it seems entirely unnecessary to record them. Dr. Stevens' effort to establish William's priority was absolutely necessary to give him a direct line of succession.

First Generation.

John Stephens, born in England, date unknown, married Mary ———. Had four children, all born in England. John, with his three younger children, emigrated to America, settling in Guilford, Conn., about 1646. He died Sept. 1, 1670.

2 JOHN STEEVENS, born ——. Remained in England.

3 THOMAS STEEVENS, born——

4 WILLIAM STEEVENS, born——

5 MARY STEEVENS, born——

John (2) probably never came to this country. Talcott's manuscript simply says of him, "Remained in England." This language would clearly indicate that he never came over. Hon. R. D. Smyth says (N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register, Vol. 56, page 358) that this John married Mary Coit, lived in West Haven, New Haven, and New London, and returned to England. Evidently this is an error. The John he refers to seems likely to have been the son of William Stephens, of Gloucester, an entirely distinct family.

Mary (5) married, first, Henry Kingsnorth, of Staplehurst, Co. Kent, time and place of marriage unknown, who died July 29, 1668, and she married, second, John Collins, of Branford, June 2, 1669. She died in 1700. Dr. C. Ellis Stevens, in his "Stevens Genealogy," 1904, page 60, says: "Mary Collins had daughter Mary, born Feb'y, 1700," but this could not have been possible, as Mary was born in England before 1639, and must have been about seventy years of age in 1700. If a child was born to her it must have been in 1670. As her first marriage was fruitless, it is more than likely that the child Mary was by a previous marriage. This view is further verified in Chapman's "Chapman Family," page 190, which says that "Deacon Nathaniel Chapman married June 29, 1681, Mary Collins, of Guilford, the daughter of John Collins. At this date a child of Mary Kingsnorth Collins could not have been more than eleven years of age, hence she must have been a child by first marriage.

Hibbard's "History of Goshen," 1897, page 442, gives the following account:

John Collins and wife emigrated from England in 1638. Was member Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. in 1644. Had one child John by wife Susannah, born about 1644. This John married (1) Mary Trowbridge. She died in 1668 and he married (2) Mary Stevens, widow of Henry Kingsnorth, June 3, 1669. He married (3) Dorcas Swain, widow of John Taintor. He went to Middletown in 1663, thence to Saybrooke, Branford, Guilford, and in 1671 back to Branford, where he died Dec. 10, 1704. He had children by first wife. John, born in 1665, Robert, born in 1667, and Mary, probably by second wife, who married — Chapman.

As this Mary is without doubt the one who married Nathaniel Chapman in 1681, she must have been born before John, to Mary Trowbridge Collins. Steiner's "History of Guilford and Madison," page 131, says John Collins came to Guilford in 1669 and bought John Steven's home and land and was made "Planter" Feb. 13, 1670. Married Mary, sister of Henry Kingsnorth and afterward came into possession of lands of Henry and James Kingsnorth. Smyth's "History of Guilford," page 22, gives a more detailed statement, and says John Collins married Mary Kingsnorth, sister of Henry. There seems to be no question as to the error of these statements that John Collins married Mary, a sister of Henry Kingsnorth. John Steevens' will, made Aug. 27, 1670, clearly mentions his daughter Mary Collins (see Appendix). No mention is elsewhere made of a sister of Henry Kingsnorth, and as John Collins seems to be clearly defined, there can be no question that his second wife, Mary, was John Steevens' daughter, and the widow of Henry Kingsnorth, and it is quite as obvious that no issue resulted from the marriage.

Henry Kingsnorth was born in Staplehurst, Co. Kent, in 1618. He was a man of standing and property, both in old and New England. (Smyth's Guilford, p. 46.) He died and was buried July 30, 1668. He came over in the ship "The St. John," which sailed from England May 20, 1639, and reached New Haven about July 10, 1639. (E. E. Atwater's History of Colony of New Haven, p. 626.)

The famous "Planters'" agreement was framed on this ship and signed June 1, 1639, by Henry Kingsnorth and 24 others, nearly all of whom settled in Guilford or Killingworth. A copy of this interesting document, explaining the origin of the name "planter," appears in the Appendix.

Second Generation.

Thomas Steevens (*John*¹), born in England about 1628. Married in 1650 Mary Fletcher, daughter of John Fletcher of Milford. Thomas came with his father from England to Guilford about 1646. He never became a freeman in Guilford. With his father and brother William he was a strong supporter of and adherent to Dr. Rossiter, and in October, 1662, all three joined with others in seceding from the New Haven colony, and tendered their persons and estates to the Connecticut colony. They were received into this colony and guaranteed protection. The bitter controversy which followed caused Thomas to remove in 1665 to Killingworth, where in 1669 he was made a freeman. Thomas was a man of ability and prominence in Killingworth and was twice elected to the General Assembly. In 1654, while living in Guilford, he was chosen corporal in an expedition against the Dutch of New York. He died Nov. 18, 1685.

Sarah married Stephen Dodd.

Joseph lived single and died in 1697.

Ebenezer married April 27, 1698, Jean Redfield; no children. He died Nov. 18, 1738. See abstract of will in Appendix.

William Stevens (*John*¹), born 1630 in England. Married, first, Mar. 3, 1653, Mary Meigs, daughter of John and Thomasia (Fry) Meigs. She died and he married, second, Sarah, widow of David Carpenter, of New London. She died April 30, 1703. William was associated with his father and brother in joining the Connecticut colony and probably removed with them to Killingworth, as he was a member of the church there in 1670. He sold all of his landed holdings in Guilford to William Seward on March 26, 1671. He died January, 1703.

- 19 JOHN STEVENS, born Guilford, Mar. 3, 1654.

- 24 JOSIAH STEVENS, born Killingworth, Dec. 8, 1670.
- 25 MARY STEVENS, born Killingworth, Nov. 2, 1677.

John was killed in the Pequot war, 1676.

Nathaniel died in infancy.

Judith married in 1686 Samuel Buell, of Killingworth, who died Nov. 2, 1732. She died Oct. 31, 1732.

Mary was probably daughter by second wife. Married Joseph Harris, of Killingworth.

The continuation of this line will be found in Part II. Copious notes had been taken, which were turned over to Dr. C. Ellis Stevens, who was then preparing a book on this line, with the understanding that he was to publish the same. His book, however, only gave the male line, and in a historical, rather than genealogical style, and not suitable for ready reference. Dr. Stevens states that he destroyed the notes after extracting his male line of descent. Owing to grave errors in his book, which seriously impair its value as a work of authentic reference, it has seemed best to print so much of the William branch as can be hastily re-collected from former notes, in spite of a promise made by the compiler to Dr. Stevens under the misapprehension that his work would give the full lines, both male and female, in extenso.

Jonathan Steevens (*Thomas*³, *John*¹), born Killingworth, Conn., Jan. 2, 1675. Married, date unknown, Deborah Stiles, daughter Isaac Stiles, of Stratford, Conn., born Jan. 18, 1682. Orcutt's History of Stratford, page 367, (Dr. Henry R. Stiles' Genealogy, page 408, quotes same as his authority) says this Deborah Stiles married John Sheather, of Killingworth. This is probably an error. The town records of Killingworth, as certified by Mr. Edward C. Nichols, the town clerk, show the marriage of four John Sheathers. The second John, who is credited by Orcutt as marrying "Deborah," is given as follows in Vol. 2 of the Killingworth records: "John Sheather and Darkes Stiles were maryed January ye 7th 1712-13." Was this Dorcas Burt, of Springfield, Mass., (See N. E. H. Reg., Vol. 32, page 302) who married John Stiles (born in England 1633 and brought to America in 1634) Oct. 28, 1651? Dr. Stiles' Genealogy, page 81, says: "Mr. John Stiles died at Windsor, Conn., Dec. 8, 1683, aged about 50. His widow probably married again, as a "Darkes" Stiles married John Sheather at Killingworth, Jan. 12, 1712-13." It hardly seems probable that this was Dorcas Burt, the widow, as she was born in 1638, and would have been about 74 years old, while John Sheather was born March 23, 1684, and at this time about 28 years old. Dr. Steiner, in his history, credits several children to her. It seems likely that the "Darkes" who did marry John Sheather was a daughter of Dorcas (Burt) Stiles or some other Dorcas Stiles. Clearly a genealogical error or omission has occurred somewhere. This Dorcas died Nov. 7, 1748, and hers is the only recorded death of the wife of any John Sheather in the Killingworth records.

As additional proof, Deborah's first child Jonathan was born about one year previous to the recorded marriage of Dorcas, as shown by the certified record. There can be no question as to the correctness of this record. Subsequent names and probate records show that Jonathan's wife was Deborah Stiles, and comparative dates and facts point to the one given as being the correct "Deborah." Jonathan died June 2, 1746. Deborah died March, 1748. See wills of both in Appendix.

Ebenezer Steevens (*Jonathan*¹⁸, *Thomas*³, *John*¹), born Killingworth, Conn., April 4, 1713. Orcutt's History of Stratford says Ebenezer was born in Woodbury, Oct. 18, 1719. This might have been some other Ebenezer, but the Killingworth records show that this Ebenezer was born as stated above.

Married, Dec. 3, 1742, Lucy Griswold, daughter of Benjamin and Abigail (Norton) Griswold, born at Killingworth, March 23, 1721. Their first home was at Killingworth. It is recorded that "Ebenezer Steevens, of Killingworth, and Philip Chatfield bought of Josiah Stoddard, in Salisbury, Conn., 1059 acres of land, April 25, 1752. Dec. 4, of same year, he bought of John and Esther Barnes a quarter section on Town Hill, near Salisbury. About this time the family moved to Salisbury. Their child Beulah was the first child born in Salisbury, according to the town records. They joined the Congregational Church at Salisbury by letter from the church at Killingworth prior to 1763. He was appointed Corporal in Col. Seth Warner's Regiment Feb. 25, 1779; Ensign Aug. 7, 1779; Quartermaster Sept. 7, 1780. The town records of Salisbury show that at a meeting held May 13, 1756, "voted that Ebenezer Steevens is chosen to receive and take in the produce of the county to answer the county rates of the year ensuing." May 10, 1781, Ebenezer Steevens confessed judgment to Ethan Allen, of Sunderland, Bennington Co., Vt., for sum £13.6. At Freeman's meeting, April 13, 1773, Ebenezer Steevens took the Freeman's oath as required by law. Lucy died in 1811. No record can be found of his death, which occurred previous to 1811 and later than 1798. His will was made July 4, 1798. See Appendix.

Stiles Steevens (*Jonathan*¹⁸, *Thomas*³, *John*¹), born Killingworth, Conn., June 26, 1723. Married, April 17, 1746, Marcy Wellman, daughter of Gideon Wellman and great-grand-daughter of William Wellman, one of the original 27 settlers of Hammonasset Plantation, in 1663, (later called Kenilworth and Killingworth) a man of much prominence, both in the town and colony. She died, and he married, second, May 24, 1753, Esther Tibbals. She died, and he married, third, July 23, 1769, Elizabeth Morehouse, of Saybrooke. He lived in Killingworth till his last marriage. The last trace of him in the Killingworth records is in 1769, when he deeds certain tracts of land to various parties. He probably moved to Saybrooke or some other place. No record of his death appears. In 1770 Chloe Steevens deeds a parcel of land, "being all of my right in a tract of land set out to me and my brother from the estate of our honored grandfather, Gideon Wellman."

SOME DESCENDANTS

OF

WILLIAM STEVENS.

William Stevens.

Much information concerning this line may be obtained from the very elaborate history prepared by Rev. C. Ellis Stevens, LL. D. (1282), and published 1904. This tabulation is given without historic matter, to include several families not mentioned in the history referred to, for the convenience of those who may desire information about both lines. The compiler has devoted several years to the collection of information on this line, and could include much not here given, but in deference to the book above referred to it is omitted.

For First and Second Generations see page 15.

Samuel Stevens (*William*⁴, *John*¹), born Killingworth, March 1, 1657. Married, first, date unknown, Elizabeth ——. She died May 30, 1701, and he married, second, Meletiah Bradford, daughter of Major William Bradford and granddaughter of Governor Bradford, of Massachusetts. He died in 1712. He had the title "Ensign."

Temperance married — Denton. (See Appendix).

Dr. C. Ellis Stevens, in his "Stevens Genealogy," page 62, says that John (1002) "died unmarried Oct. 5, 1742." Under the best evidence obtainable it seems altogether likely that this is an error, and the death recorded is that of John (1020), son of Samuel (1004.) It is also more than probable that this John (1002) really married Elizabeth Grinnell, instead of John (43), as recorded on page 21. This evidence has been secured since that record was printed. The editor is somewhat in doubt, but inclines to the belief that the record given under John (43) belongs actually to John (1002). Under corrected information the following changes should be noted: John and Elizabeth Grinnell were married March 15, 1709-10. She died Feb. 14, 1747-48. Elakim was born Feb. 16, 1711. John born Jan. 21, 1715. Jemima born March 11, 1726. Married Benjamin Griffith Dec. 25, 1746.

It is also possible that William (1003) was the one who really married Ruhamah Earl, instead of William (43). The possibility of this is suggested by the fact that the sister, Elizabeth (1007), had a son Leverett. The fact that Christopher (121) wills lands on the "Mill Plain," which descended from Thomas, would indicate that the record as given on page 22 is correct.

PART III.

APPENDIX.

THE PLANTERS COVENANT,
WILLS, Etc.

The Planters Covenant.

The History of the Colony of New Haven by Atwater, page 626, says the first ship, "The St. John," sailed from England May 29, 1639. On this ship were twenty-five persons, including Henry Kingsnorth, nearly all of whom settled in Guilford. While on the high sea nothing was more natural than for these sturdy sons of the soil to be planning for their future. From Smyth's History of Guilford we copy the famous planters agreement, which was framed and signed on board this ship while on the voyage.

THE COVENANT.

We, whose names are hereunder written, intending by God's gracious permission, to plant ourselves in New England, and if it may be, in the southerly part about Quinnepeack :

We do faithfully promise each to each for ourselves and families, and those that belong to us ; that we will, the Lord assisting us, sit down and join ourselves together, in one entire plantation ; and to be helpful each to the other, every common work according to every man's ability and as need shall require ; and we promise not to desert or leave each other on the plantation, but with the consent of the rest, or the greater part of the company, who have enlisted in this engagement.

As for our getting together in a church way and the choice of officers and members to be joined together in that way, we do refer ourselves until such time as it shall please God to settle us in our plantation.

In testimony whereof, we subscribe our hands the first day of June, 1639.

Signed by Henry Kingsnorth and 24 others.

From this agreement came the word "planter" as distinguished from "freeman." The former being applied till the person joined the church when the latter title was used. No list of planters was extant in Guilford till 1650, when a list of freemen was made to which was appended the "planters." On this list appears the name of Henry Kingsnorth as "freeman" and the names of John Stephens and Thomas Steevens as planters. The name William Stevens does not appear till the second list.

The church was instituted in Guilford June 19, 1643.

The fundamental agreement contained the following: "We do now therefore, all and every of us agree, order and conclude that only such planters as are also members of the church here, shall be called "freemen."

JOHN STEPHENS, 1.

Last Will and Testament.—New Haven Probate Records,
Part II, pages 33-34,

This writing witnesseth that I, John Stephens of Guilford, in the county of New Haven, being sick and ill in body but of perfect mind and memory, blessed be God, I do leave this my last will and testament as followeth:

And first, I bequeath my soul into the hand of Almighty God yt gave it me, and my body to ye dust to be decently buried, and for the worldly goods yt God hath given me:

First—I give to my sonne Thome Stephens the mare I usually ride on, and my best brass kettle.

2—I give and bequeath to my sonne William Stephens all my housing and home lots, my meadow at the East river here in Guilford, he paying out of it twenty pounds; ten pounds to my sonne John Stephens in old England, to be paid here in current pay in New England, and ten pounds to my daughter Mary Collins.

Also, I give my son Thomas Stevens my best suit and my cloak and my bed and one payre of sheets and all my other bedding.

3—I give five pounds apiece to my four grandchildren, to-wit: James and John, my son Thomas' sons and John and Samuel the sons of my son William Stephens. Further, I give to Mary Stephens the daughter of my son Thomas a payre of sheets, and I give to Judith Stephens the daughter of my son William a payre of sheets, and the rest of my estate to be divided in equal portions between my sonne Thomas Stephens and my sonne William Stephens and my daughter Mary Collins, and I do make my sonne Thomas Stephens sole executor and administrator of this my last will and testament to pay all the debts and gather in the dues to ye estate and to see that they be faithfully discharged.

To which I set my hand and seale this 27th day of August anno domini, one thousand six hundred and seventy.

The mark of
JOHN STEPHENS.

CHESTER THOMAS 316.

Chester Thomas descended from Jacob Thomas, an old and prominent Vermont farmer. A number of his ancestors fought in the Revolution. An uncle, Isaac Thomas, was killed in Gen. Sullivan's march up the Susquehanna, at Horseheads. His mother, Susannah Rowley, was the daughter of Dr. Reuben Rowley, a distinguished soldier of the Revolution.

At the age of twenty-one Chester was elected constable, and held various offices in Bradford county, Pa., for twenty-five years. He was sheriff for three years.

In 1858 he left Pennsylvania and settled in Shawnee Co., Kansas. In 1859 he was elected to the Territorial Council by the counties of Shawnee, Osage and Lyon. In 1861 President Lincoln appointed him United States Special Agent for Kansas and the western territories Nebraska, Dakota, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico. In 1862 he was appointed Captain and Assistant Quartermaster, resigning soon after his wife's thrilling experience at Baxter Springs, on account of poor health. In 1864 he was a Presidential Elector and voted for Abraham Lincoln. After retiring from public life he engaged largely in contracting for and furnishing supplies to the United States government. In politics Mr. Thomas was a Democrat originally, with anti-slavery convictions. He was a close friend of David Wilmot, author of the famous "Wilmot Proviso." His devotion to the anti-slavery cause early drew his attention to Kansas, and it was owing to this fact that he settled there, and took up the Republican issue. He aided materially in locating the capital of Kansas at Topeka. He was the leading spirit in the canvas for this result.

LYDIA STEEVENS (THOMAS) 466.

Account of Baxter Springs Massacre and Her Thrilling Adventure,
October 6, 1863.

Captain Chester Thomas was Quartermaster at Fort Gibson, Indian Territory, in October, 1863. He was very ill, and his wife received a message at her home, in Topeka, Kansas, to come to him with all possible haste. She gathered a quantity of delicacies and prepared to start at once. Adolphus, the eldest son, was to accompany her. He went home to inform his family and make necessary arrangements, but his wife strenuously opposed his going, having a presentment that if he did he would never return alive. He, therefore, gave it up, and a neighbor, Captain Horne, who was going to Fort Scott, took his place as driver of her carriage, and conducted her safely to that place. Her team was a pair of fine dapple gray mares and the carriage a top buggy.

Arriving at Fort Scott, Mrs. Thomas learned that Gen. James G. Blunt was about to move his headquarters from Fort Scott to Fort Smith, Ark., and would start the next day for Fort Smith by way of of Fort Gibson. Gen. Blunt consented to escort Mrs. Thomas to her destination and detailed John C. Pratt to drive her carriage.

The troop, consisting of Co. I, 3d Wisconsin Cavalry, 40 men, Co. A, 14th Kansas Cavalry, 45 men, the Brigade Band, Gen. Blunt's staff and ten baggage wagons, left Fort Scott about noon October 4, 1863, marched six miles and encamped at "Dry Wood "

The next day they marched thirty-four miles and camped at Cow Creek. Trooper Pratt was unhitching the team, to picket them out for grass, when one of the horses kicked him on the leg. This put him out of sorts, and going to the headquarters wagon he told Charles H. Davis, one of the 3d Wisconsin men, who had been detailed as messenger to Major Henry Z. Curtis, of Gen. Blunt's staff, and was riding in the headquarters wagon, that if he wanted his job he could have it. Davis gladly consented and at once took Pratt's place as driver for Mrs. Thomas.

The next morning (October 6) they started on the march about six o'clock. At noon, the advance, consisting of Gen. Blunt and Major Curtis in a top buggy, Mrs. Thomas and driver in a top buggy, two ambulances and fifteen mounted men, halted about one mile from Baxter Springs, waiting for the balance of the escort to come up. As the command came up firing was heard from the southeast, in the direction of Baxter Springs. On their left, about half a mile away, was a belt of timber, and there appeared at the edge of this timber a troop of about three hundred mounted men, dressed in blue. Gen. Blunt supposed they were Federal troops coming out of Baxter Springs Fort to escort them in. Capt. Tufft, chief of escort, came galloping up to the General and said it was Quantrell. The General, not believing it, was slow to comprehend the situation. In the meantime the troopers continued to approach, and at once broke into a charge, which was accompanied by rapid firing. Blunt's men fired one volley and the conflict became a complete rout. In less time than it takes to tell it the greater portion of Blunt's men were slaughtered in cold blood.

On the first onslaught, Gen. Blunt (dressed in citizen's clothes) and Major Curtis had alighted from their buggy and mounted their horses, which the colored servants had been riding. Trooper Davis at once started Mrs. Thomas' team on a dead run, breaking to the right over the prairie, to the west. Mrs. Thomas had said to Davis, "What are we going to do?" He replied, "Get away from here if we can," at the same time telling her to get down from the seat and lay flat in the bottom. She did this, her feet and body being under the seat and her head next the dashboard, with nothing under it but her arm. Davis got on his knees and leaned far over the dashboard, with his head down as low as he could get it, arms extended, his left hand grasping the reins, his right playing the whip and the horses running at full speed.

For some distance several of Quantrell's men pursued, firing constantly. The top of the buggy being up the pursuers could not see the occupants, and supposing them to be sitting on the seat, they riddled the top with bullets, all of which passed over them. Their lives were saved by their precaution. The horses ran at topmost speed for about three miles, and then becoming exhausted, stopped in a hollow—a "sugar-bowl" as it is called on the prairie.

As they came to a stop Davis got out of the buggy, and looking back, saw two horses coming rapidly toward them with empty saddles. As they came up he stopped them and led them up to the left side of the buggy. Mrs. Thomas at once jumped astride of one and Davis mounted the other, and both started on a gallop. After going about half a mile, seeing no pursuers behind, they stopped, worn out with the fierce riding, and not knowing what to do next. About half or three-quarters of a mile to their left they saw a little knot of mounted men standing still. They decided to approach cautiously and see if they were friends or foes, so they started on a walk, and at the same time one man from the party started toward them. Very soon Mrs. Thomas stopped and Mr. Davis rode on alone till he came within hailing distance, when he discovered that they were from their own escort. He called Mrs. Thomas, and together they rode up to the party, which consisted of Gen. Blunt and nine of his men, who had escaped the general slaughter.

After a short consultation in regard to Mrs. Thomas, Gen. Blunt turned to one of his men and said, "You go with Mrs. Thomas to Fort Scott. Go in a northwest direction across the prairie, keeping away from the road." Upon this Mrs. Thomas started with the trooper and Mr. Davis remained with the party. He says, "This is the last I ever saw of Mrs. Thomas and I do not know the name of the trooper who went with her."

Soon after Mrs. Thomas and trooper Davis abandoned the carriage, Major Henning found it just as it had been left, with the horses still standing in their tracks. Supposing of course Mrs. Thomas and the driver had been killed, he took the team and drove it to Baxter Springs. When Trooper Davis and his party reached Baxter Springs toward night he found the rig there and drove it out to bring in a wounded comrade. The team was later sent to Fort Scott by Major Henning.

The experience of Mrs. Thomas after she left Gen. Blunt's party can only be given in the traditional story handed down from memory as she told it later. Certain it is that she left the surviving party with a single trooper as escort and upon the same horse she had ridden since leaving the buggy, not having dismounted while with Gen. Blunt's party. They traveled till darkness overtook them, when they halted in a grove of cotton wood beside a stream. Mrs. Thomas was assisted from the saddle, her clothing stiff with blood from the wounded horse she rode. She had probably changed horses after leaving Trooper Davis and the party, as it is stated that she had ridden two horses during the afternoon. It also appears that several soldiers, probably straggling survivors of the massacre, on their way to Fort Scott, had joined them, as—according to Mrs. Thomas' own statement—"The soldiers watched while I slept the sleep of exhaustion with the sod for a pillow." They discovered another camp on the opposite side of the stream. Not knowing whether they were friends or foes, the strictest silence was observed till morning, when they discovered that they were friends, who kindly provided them with breakfast, and then they resumed their journey to Fort Scott, arriving safely before night.

Mrs. Thomas was obliged to remain in bed for a week or more. Upon her recovery she returned to Topeka. Her health never again became robust, and in a little more than a year she passed away—her end no doubt hastened by the terrible ordeal through which she had passed. She died December 3, 1864. It is hardly probable that any woman during the civil war passed through a more thrilling experience to come out alive.

Mr. Charles A. Davis, to whom we are indebted for the facts given in this account, is still living in good health at Baraboo, Wis. He confidently believes that he owes his life to the kick of the horse, which gave him the position of driver, making an escape possible.
